MINISTER COMBES MAY RIDE TO FALL

Income Tax Scheme Likely to Defeat Ministry.

HIS PLAN IS NOT FEASIBLE

Chamber of Deputies Adjourns Over Holidays—Fate of Government Anticipated.

PARIS, July 14.—The chamber of deputies broke up last night for the summer holidays, and will not meet again till October. The existence of the government is consequently assured till that date.

However, even M. Clemenceau, leader of the bloc, has expressed the conviction that the ministry must fall as soon as the chamber reassembles. He gives no definite explanation of this view, but seems to imply that M. Combes' own wish is to resign power at that date.

The real explanation is that the ministry has pledged itself on repeated occasions, and again through M. Rouvier, the minister of finance, to introduce the first thing next season a long-promised income tax scheme.

In the inner circles of parliamentary life it is recognized that no income tax is possible in France. It would supply too easy an electoral platform to aggressive demagogues, who would constantly be proposing higher and higher rates of progressive taxation of income, until all capital would be driven out of the country.

This M. Rouvier appreciates perfectly. It is frankly recognized on all sides that if the government keeps its promise of introducing an income tax scheme it will be riding to a fall, and that this impossible measure will once more be deferred to the Greek kalends.

MISSIONARY ENDS A THIRTY DAYS' FAST

Lost Twenty-five Pounds, But Looks Well, and Says His General Health Is Improved.

PLAINFIELD, July 14.—Edward R. Taylor, Plainfield's city missionary, has ended a thirty days' fast and appears none the worse for his ordeal. When he started to abstain from solid food he tipped the scales at 220 pounds, and today he weighs but twenty-five pounds less.

During the time of his abstinence from solid nourishment Mr. Taylor took walks for exercise, and part of the time attended to his duties as missionary. He declares that his general health is much better than it was, and he has no fear of any reaction. One year ago he fasted for fifteen days.

WILL OF BOSTON LAWYER REPEATED SECOND TIME

Supreme Court Affirms Judgment of Undue Influence on Part of Second Wife.

BOSTON, July 14.—The will of Uriel H. Crocker, the late wealthy lawyer and lawbook writer, stands broken, as the jury in the second trial last April left it by its verdict, finding that it had been procured by the undue influence of Mrs. Annie J. Crocker, his widow and second wife. Judge Bailey, in the supreme court, denied her motion to set aside that verdict and to grant a new trial.

Mr. Crocker left practically all of his property, valued at $700,000, to his widow, who was thirty years his junior. The will was contested by his sons, George U., city treasurer of Boston; Joseph B., and Edgar, and, according to the first trial, the will was allowed. The case was tried again and the jury broke the will.

A final decree must now be entered, upon which an appeal can be taken to the Supreme Court.

The broken will was drawn up by Mr. Crocker in his own handwriting, and dated April 5, 1900. It placed his income in trust and gave his widow the income and enjoyment of it for her life, and authority to dispose of it by her own will at her death among such of his children and their respective families as she might desire. She was named as executrix by it, however, from disposing of any of the estate by will to any institution under Roman Catholic management or control. She was named as executrix of it.

Mr. Crocker had made an earlier will, with practically the same disposition of his estate, and it is intimated that the widow will now seek to have this probated.

BANDMASTER "JEFF" LEE RESTS IN ARLINGTON

In the fifty-third year of his age, Joseph M. Lee, one of the best known colored men in this city, died at his home, 235 F Street southwest, Sunday night. He was a barber and musical instructor by profession, and is said to have organized and taught most of the colored bands that have played in Washington for years. He was a Republican in politics, and worked for his party in Maryland. He was known among his many white and colored friends as "Jeff" Lee.

The funeral took place at Metropolitan Wesley A. M. E. Zion Church at 5 p. m. yesterday. Rev. W. C. Wallace, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. W. J. Howard, D. D., and the Rev. Aquilla Sayles. The interment was at Harmony Cemetery.

OVER 200 STRIKES LAST YEAR

BOSTON, Mass., July 13.—According to a bulletin just issued by the Massachusetts Bureau of Statistics of Labor, covering the year ended September 30, 1933, the number of strikes during that period was 217, or 69 less than the year before.

VILLAGE NEAR MANILA WIPED OUT BY STORM

MANILA, July 14.—Torrential rains have been falling here for three days. A cloudburst has destroyed the village of San Juan del Monte, adjacent to Manila. Several hundred lives have been lost.

Many districts of the capital are flooded. In twenty-seven hours the rainfall amounted to 17.1 inches, which is withering parallel here. Communication with the country is interrupted. The damage to property is placed at $3,000,000.
